An aerial photograph of Ohtani Park. The park features a large baseball field with a light-colored infield and a green outfield. To the left of the main field is a smaller, partially visible baseball field. Surrounding the fields are various structures, including a large white building with a green roof, a blue-roofed building, and several smaller buildings with red and grey roofs. A road runs along the right side of the park. Five yellow circular markers with black numbers are placed on the image: 1 and 2 are near the top left of the main field; 3 and 4 are near the bottom right of the main field; and 5 is near the top right of the main field.
